Re: Liberty Insurance Corporation v. New York Marine and General Insurance Company, American Empire Surplus Lines Insurance Company, and Hudson Excess Insurance Company
Civil Action No. : 1:22-cv-01081-DLC

Dear Judge Cote:

Our firm represents plaintiff Liberty Insurance Corporation (“Liberty”) in the referenced matter. This letter is submitted pursuant to paragraph 2. C. of Your Honor’s Individual Practices in Civil Cases, in opposition to the letter motion filed on September 13, 2022, by defendant Hudson Excess Insurance Company (“Hudson”), seeking permission to move to quash the subpoena that Liberty served on Hudson’s insured, Skittles Service Corp. (“Skittles”).

In this action, Liberty seeks recovery of co-insurance contribution from defendants for a common insured, 45 John NY LLC (“45 John”), for an underlying tort action entitled Juarez v. Primework Construction Corp., Avacon Management LLC and 45 John NY LLC, Index Number 160728/2017, pending in New York Supreme Court, New York County (the “Underlying Action”). A key determinative issue as to whether Hudson owes coverage to 45 John is whether Hudson’s Named Insured, Skittles, “agreed in writing in a contract or agreement” to include 45 John, as a additional insured. Attached, as Exhibit “A”, is a copy of the written agreement that we believe satisfies this requirement.

We attempted to authenticate this document via Notice to Admit, to no avail. We even offered to withdraw the Skittles subpoena if Hudson would stipulate to the authenticity of this document, that it was signed by Avacon and Skittles on the dates indicated, and that it applies to the project at issue. Hudson refused; as such, we need to move forward with discovery on this issue. We specifically issued the subpoena to address this issue.

This deposition is not duplicative of any discovery in the Underlying Action. The individual deposed, Isaias Barrera Perez (“Barrera”), was a foreman and he was not involved in the contracts related to the Underlying Action. His testimony related to the tort issues – the cause of the alleged accident. Barrera did not testify on any subject related to the key coverage issues herein. Indeed, Barrera specifically testified that he had no knowledge of the written contracts related to the job. In contrast, in this action, we seek a deposition to address insurance issues, specifically the contracts related to the job, including the exhibit annexed hereto. As such, we served the subpoena on a principal of Skittles, Araceli Rivero. A copy of the Affidavit of Service is attached hereto as Exhibit "B".

Hudson's argument that Liberty should not be allowed to depose a different Skittles witness to testify about the contract documents because it could elicit inconsistent testimony is completely frivolous. First, Barrera could not testify about the contract because he lacked knowledge. Second, there is no rule of law preventing discovery because it may elicit inconsistent testimony.

The pending summary judgment motion in the Underlying Action should not preclude or delay discovery herein. We have a discovery deadline of October 28, 2022. The motion in State Court does not stay discovery herein.

Hudson's assertion that Skittles was dissolved in 2020 is also not a legitimate reason to quash the Skittles subpoena. Even if Skittles was dissolved as a corporation in 2020, it still must respond to a subpoena concerning pre-dissolution activity. McCready v. Nat'l Credit Sys., Inc., No. 07 CIV. 7705 DAB/JCF, 2010 WL 815079 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 9, 2010).

Finally, Hudson's application for permission to move to quash and/or any motion to quash the Skittles subpoena should be denied because it is untimely. The subpoena was returnable September 12, 2022. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(d)(3), in order to be timely, a motion to quash a subpoena generally must be filed before the return date of the subpoena. In re Rule 45 Subpoena Issued To JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A., 319 F.R.D. 132 (S.D.N.Y. 2016).

For the above reasons and law, Liberty respectfully submits that Hudson's application for permission to move to quash the Skittles subpoena should be denied. Moreover, Skittles did not appear on the date noticed in the Skittles subpoena. We received an email from counsel purporting to represent Skittles in connection with the subpoena, Jonathan Banks, Esq. Mr. Banks advised us that he was unavailable to go forward with Skittles' deposition on the date in the subpoena and would get back to us with an adjourned date. He did not. Liberty respectfully requests that this Court direct Skittles to appear for a deposition in compliance with the subpoena.

Permission for Hudson Excess Insurance Company to move to quash the subpoena is denied.

DENISE COTE
